Purpose

All Title I schools are required to hold an Annual Title I meeting at the beginning of each school year to . . .

- Inform parents/guardians about Title I programming, and
- Share how parents/guardians can become involved and participate in the Title I program.

Goals of Title I

Our goals are...

- to increase academic achievement.
- to provide direct instructional support to students.
- to provide professional development for teachers.
- to promote parent education and involvement.

What is Title I?

Title I is:

- To improve education for schoolwide programs in all core subjects
 - To provide students a well-rounded education as defined by the school's plan
 - To support advanced learning opportunities for struggling students

Parent's Right to Know

Parents have the right to know about the teaching qualifications of your child's classroom teacher in a school receiving Title I funds.

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO KNOW

- Whether the teacher has met State qualification and licensing criteria levels and subject areas in which the teacher provides instruction;
- Whether the teacher is teaching under emergency or other provisional status through which State qualification or licensing criteria have been waived;
- Whether the teacher is teaching in the field of discipline of the certification of the teacher; and
- Whether your child is provided services by paraprofessionals and, if so, their qualifications.

Parent Involvement Plan

- A group of diverse children of various ethnicities and ages are smiling and looking towards the camera. They are positioned in the upper half of the slide. Below them, a faint world map is visible, with continents colored in shades of blue, green, yellow, and purple. The background is white.
- Every Title I school, in collaboration with parents, must develop a school parent involvement plan.
 - The plan describes how the school will involve the parents in an organized, ongoing, and timely way in the planning, review and improvement of the Title I program at the school.
 - A copy of the plan is on the school's website and available for you to take home today.

School-Parent Compact

A group of diverse children and adults smiling, overlaid on a colorful world map. The map shows continents in various colors: North America in blue, South America in yellow, Europe in red, Africa in purple, Asia in green, and Australia in orange. The text is centered over the map and the group of people.

A written agreement that outlines how the parents, the entire staff and the students will share the responsibility for improved student academic achievement, as well as describes how the school and parents will build and develop a partnership that will help children achieve the state's high standards.

School Building Leadership Team

The primary function of a Building Leadership Team is to promote and facilitate the collaborative decision making process which impacts academic achievement.

Parent Advisory Council Representative

- Each Title I school is required to have a Title I Parent Advisory Council (PAC). The Principal of the school selects two parents to serve as representative and co-representative of the school's Title I PAC.
- The school's building leadership team work with the school's principal and the Parent Advisory Council representative in developing a Title I Parent Plan and parent-student compact for the school.

Parent Consultant

- Each Title I school is required to have a Parent Consultant. The Principal of the school selects one parent to serve as Consultant. The Parent Consultant manages the school's Parent Resource Center and operates the lending library.
- The Parent Center is open for two hours per day/ten hours per week.
- The parent is contracted, as the parent consultant, to provide services for the school's Parent Resource Center, attend PAC meetings, provide parent workshops, and maintain the Lending Library. The parent consultant will receive a quarterly stipend of $250, not to exceed $1,000 annually.
- The parent must have a child enrolled at the school where services are being provided.
